Pheasants – Pheasants Everywhere

This has been a great fall for our pheasant hunting. New trails that were cut into the second growth area of the fields along with several small new fields and food plots for the birds have paid off with expanded hunting areas. Birds are staying around and it's not uncommon to put up more than are put out. We got the video camera out and have been taping some of the action. Video clips have been added to the Upland Preserve page and the Shooting Sports page— be sure to check them out.

If you are in the woods in pursuit of a deer this month GOOD LUCK— if you fill your tag early call and book a bird hunt to extend your hunting season. New!!!! Book your hunt for Monday-Thursday and receive a 10% discount. Call today— 399-DOGS

Not all of our time has been spent in the upland fields— we've been chasing ducks and geese this fall too and what a time we've had! Although the southern zone is closed until November 13th the northern zone offers plenty of opportunity. If you are looking to add motion to your goose decoy spread give me a call as we are now carrying Randy "The Flagman" Bartz's

Flags are just $19.95 plus shipping.

September 30-October 1 Sporting Clays Shoot

An 8 station sporting clays course + a long bird competition + duck blind flurry = shooting fun and a great warm up for hunting season. Saturday's highlight was 13 year old Steve Glidden of Gorham winning the long bird competition by dusting 8 out of 10 targets. The long bird shot was a long quartering shot from the left and Steve was very poised at the line. We look forward to watching Steve shoot in the future (oh yeah, his Dad shot 7 of the 10 so it maybe genetic)! Greg Leavitt and Henry Trial took Duck Blind Flurry honors after winning a tie breaker over Jim McMullen and Bill Kirby. Del Temple broke the most Long Bird targets on Sunday with 6. Winner of the 4 pheasant hunt was Kevin O'Connell of Winslow- Congratulations!

Anybody Know A Good Moose Recipe?

The second week of the Maine moose season was a successful one for my parents, Dale and Barbara Powers of Presque Isle. Taken in the Allagash area not far from camp this bruiser weighed in at 1044lbs with a 65" spread.

Way to go!!!

TRAIL ACCESS

One of the great things about our location is our easy access to snowmobile trails and soon ATV trails. We're just a short ride on local trails to ITS 84.

Working with the Big Indian ATV Riders we will have local access to hundreds of miles of ATV trails, trails that will take you to the South China area or north to Greenville. What great trips and the best part is if you stay with us you spend less time on the highways and more time on the trails!

GET OFF THE HIGHWAY AND GET ON THE TRAILS!

Happy and safe hunting
